ABOUT OUR HOMEOPATHIC SUPPLIER...

Our laboratory is a federally registered pharmaceutical facility located in Denver, Colorado, USA. The development was based on Prof. Wm. C. Nelson's concept that modern technology is unable to duplicate the secrets of healing found in nature.

As a result of this, we at White Dove Healing Arts are dedicated to three goals:

- 1) To Provide Safe, Effective, Natural Medicine.
We believe that the people of the world prefer natural medicine and a medical philosophy which works with the body, not against it.
- 2) To Increase Awareness.
We believe that it is only through education that people can make the right choices regarding their health.
- 3) To Respect Nature.
We believe that there exists a wisdom that only nature possesses, and we will strive to honor that wisdom and learn from it.

From its inception, Prof. Nelson's laboratory has accepted the challenge of following the highest possible ethical standards in dealing with its customers, employees and the community at large, and is committed to honesty and integrity, striving to earn your trust and respect on a daily basis.

We have manufactured a professional line of homeopathic remedies called Dr. Recommends. These are specifically formulated to meet the demanding needs of the health care community. Each product has a national drug code number, indicating that it has been registered with the U.S. Food and Drug Administration. In addition to these lines, we provide complete private labeling facilities, singular remedies and custom formulations for your specific needs.

Manufacturing

Our clients include research facilities and health care professionals world-wide. Because their standards are high, ours must be as well. Therefore, we begin with the highest quality ingredients available. Our purchasing agents search the world over to find only the best raw materials.

The alcohol used is a pharmaceutical grade non-allergenic ethanol, the purest form of alcohol available. Non-grain alcohol guarantees that food allergies, particularly grain allergies, don't complicate or interfere with the healing process. This is an essential consideration in any medical therapy.

Using patent pending processes that are unique in the industry, our lab manufactures the finest natural pharmaceuticals on the market today. Through these revolutionary processes, the remedies produced by their laboratory are activated and preserved for maximum efficacy. Hand succussion and bottling ensures that no extraneous electromagnetic fields from machinery dilute the potency of the final product. This is more time consuming and more costly, but we feel a superior product is worth it.

Liquid Formulation

Homeopathic remedies are usually found in one of two forms, either liquids or pills. Research has shown that the liquid form of homeopathic medicine is more efficacious than solid pills. When a homeopathic remedy is made, the medicinal message is stored partially in the geometric shapes that the alcohol and water molecules form. Without that liquid carrier, only the vague shadow of a powerful medicine remains in the solid. Liquids have a greater surface area and are absorbed into the vascular bed beneath the tongue more readily than solids are. Liquids are also more pure since they don't have the sugar, fillers or binders that frequently make up homeopathic pills. Liquids are clearly the best alternative, and the preferred choice among professionals.

Combination Homeopathy

We specialize in the combination or complex approach to homeopathy. The synergistic blending and balancing of multiple ingredients and potencies (called ~~h~~armonics) is the result of years of experimental research and clinical testing. Harmonics provide the body with a wide selection of therapeutic tools. Every person is unique, and each condition is unique. The innate biological intelligence that we all possess knows what it needs for perfect healing, and it is able to pick and choose the most effective frequencies for its own needs. Complex homeopathy gives the body its greatest opportunity to heal itself.

We offer one of the most complete product lines in the industry, serving both the medical and the retail community. Our lab is proud to be member of the American Association of Homeopathic Pharmacists, and the Metro Denver Area Better Business Bureau. We sincerely thank you for choosing White Dove Healing Arts as your homeopathic supplier.

7. WDHA products are manufactured by a quality staff headed by a homeopathic practitioner and licensed physician.
8. WDHA products are quality controlled using these various quantum quality control procedures:

Spectrophotography - light band absorption mechanisms,

Chromography - for protein and hormone detection,

Magnetic Vibration Analysis - for measuring resonant polarity fields,

Electrical Conductivity, Electrolyte Potential and Electrostatic - for measuring electron availability,

Kirlian Field Analysis - for measuring quantic force,

Bacteriologic, Fungal, Rickettsia, and Viral, Culture - to maintain the safest product,

Polymorphic Shape - to determine the liquid crystal effect of clath structure of H2O,

Pilot and Clinical Testing - to test the product in the field for safety and efficacy, and

This thorough policy of product control provides the "quality" of product your patient deserves.

WHAT IS HOMEOPATHY?

The curative power of medicines, therefore, depends on their symptoms, similar to the disease but superior to it in strength (§12-26), so that each individual case of disease is most surely, radically, rapidly and permanently annihilated and removed only by a medicine capable of producing (in the human system) in the most similar and complete manner the totality of its symptoms, which at the same time are stronger than the disease.

Samuel Hahnemann
Organon of Medicine
(§ 27)

In 1796, German physician Samuel Hahnemann wrote, "Essay on New Curative Principle," in which he introduced a system of medicine based on similarity and the use of very high dilution pharmacological agents.

The theory and practice of homeopathy may seem strange to those of us who are accustomed to conventional Western medicine. We instinctively sense the rightness of a healing approach that stimulates and works with the body's natural healing force rather than attacking it. Homeopathy works with us, not on us. It assists our innate biological intelligence for health. For example, when we break a bone, we don't have to concentrate on healing the fracture - it is our innate intelligence that repairs it more or less automatically. In fact, the body can heal itself of virtually any disease state if given the proper support. Homeopathy encourages and maximizes our innate biological intelligence for cure.

Homeopathy is the science of healing from within. Homeopathic remedies stimulate the organism toward its own state of homeostasis, or balance, which is naturally accompanied by health. Samuel Hahnemann, the father of homeopathy, developed the concept of the minimal dose, which is the practice of determining the smallest amount of a pharmacological agent capable of gently nudging a patient back into balance. This practice of using the smallest amount possible is the fundamental principle of homeopathy.

Throughout history, disease has been viewed from two fundamentally different perspectives: 1) As a malfunction of specific components of the body, where symptoms are seen as the disease itself, and 2) Symptoms are a result of a deeper disturbance or imbalance of the person as a whole, of which symptoms are simply the outward manifestation. Disease is the blockage of the flow of life, and symptoms are the body's way of dealing with the blockage. Symptoms must point the way towards natural homeostasis and homeopathic cure.

Perspective number one is the basis underlying modern orthodox medicine. Whatever symptoms arise are counteracted by drugs, e.g., an antihistamine for a histamine reaction, an analgesic for pain, steroids for inflammation, an MAO inhibitor for depression, an antipyretic for fever, etc. In allopathy, 99 percent of all pharmacology works against symptoms and against the body. However, perspective number two is an ancient concept which underlies the entire holistic health movement, including homeopathy. Nature is revered and utilized to balance the system. The innate biological intelligence is worked with not against. With homeopathy side effects are relatively unknown.

Symptoms are not the disease; they merely accompany the disease. Symptoms are evidence of disease. Treating symptoms is like killing the messenger for bringing bad news. In fact, by only treating symptoms, you are suppressing the body's natural responses and inhibiting the healing process, interfering with life.

As far back as 200 years ago, long before the term "holistic health" was coined, homeopaths recognized the inseparability of body and mind. Homeopaths have always stressed the importance of assessing the totality of the person. No one bodily system exists independent of the others. Homeopathy is one of the rare medical approaches which carries no penalties - only benefits. In theory, there is no reason why orthodox medicine should not embrace homeopathy as an ally.

MECHANISMS OF HOMEOPATHIC INFORMATION TRANSFER

Homeopathy is a medical science used for centuries to treat illness. While not completely understood, the following are possible explanations for homeopathic activity:

1. Pharmacology: Low potency products follow two laws -

Arundt Schultz Law: A very small dose of a poison has reverse effects of a larger dose, i.e., homeopathic belladonna relieves the redness and dryness that raw belladonna causes.

Law of Initial Values: As the quantity of substance is reduced, the effect may either elevate, paradoxically reverse, or reduce, depending on the substance itself.

2. Imprinting of a message into the polymorphic structure of the water and alcohol mixture: The clathrate structure of water is modified to hold and transfer the medicinal message to the patient. The receptors for this message are probably located on the cell membranes and are similar to the olfactory receptors of the nose. This might explain the ability of strong odors to block homeopathy.
3. Storage of information in the quantic states of the electrons, atoms and molecules of the carrier fluid: This transfer would be disrupted by sunlight, x-ray, or other photon or particle release. Homeopaths are sensitive to the same. Energy is needed for this, and is provided via succussion. (There seems to be a minimum number of times a product needs to be succussed).
4. Energetic and electrical pattern of the homeopathic: Analyzing the spectral reactions of the homeopathic to conductance, inductance (magnetic relativity), and capacitance (static reactance) gives us a trivector analysis of the electrical signature of the homeopathic.
5. Storage might take place in dimensions beyond the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th: Some shift of matter/energy in dimensions 4, 5, and 6 may be partially responsible for the memory of homeopathic remedies. This explains the imponderables of homeopathy and the power of energetic healing. This dimensional effect can be measured by correlating the virtual biophotons of a homeopathic.

In mode number two, we study the phenomenon of memory in water and alcohol through photon scattering tests, nuclear magnetic resonance and the simplest of all, freezing. If water holds a plastic amorphous memory in liquid form as it enters solid form, this shape should have some effects on the ice patterns. A freezer that maintains -5c was used to crystallize the substances. The homeopathics used were less than 5% alcohol to allow proper freezing. They were put into one-inch circular 1/8 inch deep trays, then allowed to cool in the refrigerator for two hours at +5c before insertion into the freezer at -5c. After 12 hours the disks were frozen and unique patterns could be observed for each homeopathic. This was even observed above 24x potencies, where the probability of original product existing are minuscule.

Another common way to measure energetics is with Kirlian photography. This involves placing the product in a highly charged electrical field containing rare gases. Each homeopathic produces its own unique fingerprint or pattern of colors to identify it. It is interesting to note that duplicated or imprinted remedies show no fingerprint under freezing or Kirlian photography.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF HOMEOPATHY

There is a growing consensus in the world that the massive expenditures on medical research have failed to demonstrate any significant improvement in society's level of health. The incidence of major chronic diseases like cancer, diabetes and heart disease has continued to climb and medical costs have soared beyond the means of the average person. More and more, doctors and lay people alike are searching for alternatives.

Homeopathy offers a time-tested method which satisfies the need for a more economical and non-toxic therapy. It encompasses all areas of medical care - prevention, emergency and acute care, and chronic disease treatment. Homeopathy offers the individual and society improved health, productivity, and enjoyment of life.

THE ADVANTAGES OF COMBINATION HOMEOPATHIC THERAPY

1. Combination homeopathic remedies are safe, effective and compatible with all types of medical, surgical, psychological, physical and nutritional therapies,
2. Homeopathy is the safest method for treating infants, children, elderly patients and individuals who have a history of allergic reactions to drugs,
3. Combination homeopathic remedies provide a wider range of utility,
4. Combination homeopathics offer increased safety due to less side effects,
5. Iatrogenic or toxic reactions are rare,
6. Fatal poisoning is unheard of,
7. Recovery is usually progressive,
8. Disorders for which no specific medication is available may respond to homeopathics,
9. Homeopathy can rescue the medical establishment from its drug addiction,
10. The expense is minimal,
11. Homeopathy stimulates the body into a healing process- it goes beyond just treating the symptoms, and treats the core of the problem.
12. Combination homeopathy is easy to learn and use.

WAYS IN WHICH COMBINATION REMEDIES ARE USED

1. Homeopathy can be used as nutritional supplementation. If we use a homeopathic compound, such as Vitamin B to supplement a deficiency, then homeopathy is being used in a nutritional sense. A concentrated source of B-12 diluted one part to ten, six times, arrives at a 6x. This is approximately equal to the RDA of B-12, 5 micrograms. Homeopathic remedies made for nutritional supplementation can be found in the Licitrophic and Vitamin sections of this catalog. Vitamins in the minimal dose can also be used to regulate metabolism. The research of Royal Lee proved that low doses of natural, high quality vitamins function better in vivo than mega-doses of synthetic vitamins.
2. Homeopathy can be used to help stimulate the body. If we treat an allergy using a homeopathic preparation of the allergen (such as pollen, for example), we stimulate the body and the immune system to become more tolerant of that allergen. This is similar to conventional allergy treatment, where the body is gradually desensitized to whatever it is that causes the allergic reaction. One difference between homeopathy and allopathy is that homeopathy does not incur dependence, but rather uses a minimal dose philosophy which gently shifts the patient towards restoring his/her own health. Homeopathy stimulates the body naturally, allowing healing to proceed as intended. By definition in "the New Lexicon Webster's Dictionary of the English Language" 1989 Edition, allopathy is "a philosophy of medicine that views the physician as an interventionist who attempts to counteract the effect of a disease with surgical or medical treatment that produces effects opposite to those of the disease. A homeopathic physician generally uses a drug therapy that reinforces the body's natural self-healing process. Most U.S. physicians would be considered allopathic."
3. Homeopathy may be used to help reverse symptoms. Belladonna is a toxin at higher concentrations, and it is known to create conditions characterized by red, dry skin and madness (red as a beet, dry as a bone, mad as a hatter). If, however, a patient is suffering from those same symptoms, a homeopathic of Belladonna can be a very effective treatment. Homeopathy recognizes the fact that signs and symptoms are indicative of underlying imbalances. Treating this underlying cause rather than the symptoms stimulates the body to return to the intended balance of its cybernetic systems. Through restoring homeostasis, the patient's body cures itself and the symptoms subsequently subside. In homeopathy, symptoms are recognized as messengers, whereas the allopathic approach merely attempts to suppress symptoms through the use of synthetic chemicals and invasive types of intervention.
4. Homeopathy works to encourage energetic stabilization. Homeopathy assists energetic stabilization by encouraging correct tissue development with sarcodes, reducing allergic reactivity with allersodes, increasing hormetic detox with nosodes, stabilizing synthetic reactions with isodes and producing healing effects with imponderables and classic remedies.
5. Homeopathy works with herbology. Herbs are the main ingredients in homeopathic remedies. Nature's best medicine can be safely used. Thus the best of oriental herbs can be regulated and used for safety and efficacy with FDA registration.
6. Homeopathy offers a complete natural pharmacology for today's progressive Doctor.

QUALITY CONTROL

Our laboratory begins with the highest quality ingredients possible. The final product can never be better than the initial ingredients used, so our purchasing agents search the world over to find the best raw materials available. Raw materials that don't meet our strict intake standards never even reach the laboratory.

Our laboratory is a federally registered pharmaceutical laboratory in full compliance with FDA regulations governing pharmaceutical manufacturing facilities. The laboratory itself is a clean room environment with positive pressure and constant HEPA filtration to maintain a work area free of contamination. Laboratory employees are required to wear gowns, gloves, boots, nets and masks to further reduce the possibility of contaminants and assure a pure product. All procedures follow strictly the guidelines set forth in the Homeopathic Pharmacopoeia of the United States, which is the official document governing homeopathic manufacturing in this country.

The alcohol used in manufacturing is a pharmaceutical grade, non-grain ethanol. This type of ethanol is the purest form of alcohol available, and it minimizes the possibility of any grain-related allergic reactions - an essential consideration in any medical therapy.

Patent pending manufacturing techniques involve a number of unique features, including special filtration and activation of the water used. This process produces an increase in the "zeta" effect of the water molecules, which boosts the magnetic activity of the formulas. The end result is a medicine that absorbs, maintains and transmits homeopathic information more efficiently, and delivers the therapeutic effects to the user in its most effective form.

Another unique feature of our manufacturing process is that of hand succussion and bottling. Many pharmaceutical manufacturers utilize machines in the mixing, succussing and pouring of their product. One of the problems commonly encountered with this technique is that homeopathics are sensitive to magnetic fields and EM radiation, and constant exposure to mechanized equipment and the fields they generate compromises the efficacy of the final product. This is why our laboratory is committed to processing our remedies by hand. It is more time consuming, costly and labor intensive than the alternative, but the result is a medicine that is unequalled in efficacy in the field of homeopathy.

The finished product is then subjected to a battery of tests, which include culturing to confirm freedom from microbial contamination, and trivector analysis to confirm product consistency through the analysis of electronic, magnetic and capacitance states.

Homeopathy is a highly effective and evolved medical discipline, and it is only through the use of high quality homeopathic medicines that it can continue to succeed. We are helping to meet the need for quality natural medicines, and a medical philosophy that works with the body, not against it.

DISCLAIMER

If conditions persist, and are not responding properly to the homeopathic program, we encourage the doctor to make other referrals so that the condition will not deteriorate. Allopathic medicine has some dramatic benefits that can help with different disease structures in their crisis stages.

Many patients do not go to doctors until they are in a crisis stage. Homeopathy might be too slow in working. We usually suggest that the patient use the remedies for two to four weeks if the condition allows. If results are not attained, the doctor should make a referral for more dramatic therapies. These should be discussed with a bio-physician who has an appreciation for the rules of nature.

Homeopathic remedies are designed to work as an adjunct and support to standard medical therapies. They are not meant as a replacement. If symptoms persist, consult a medical doctor. If pregnant or lactating consult your physician.

The United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA) warrants the safety of homeopathic remedies, but few homeopathics are listed for standard practice utilization by the FDA. This is partly due to the lack of broad based double blind research in homeopathy.

DANGERS OF HOMEOPATHIC UTILIZATION

1. Masking a major disorder: This may provoke a patient to not seek proper medical care. If symptoms persist, seek medical attention; always work with a doctor's supervision for maximum safety. Try to choose a physician who is reverent of nature and reluctant to use synthetics.
2. Alcohol sensitivities: If alcohol sensitive, the homeopathic drops may be put into a 3 oz. glass of warm water. Allow 1 minute for alcohol to evaporate. Pellets are available in custom singulars only, for alcohol sensitive people.
3. Proving: A Proving is a symptom caused by a homeopathic, and it is usually mild in appearance. If the homeopathic is terminated and symptoms abate in 24 hours, it could be a proving; if symptoms continue after 24 hours, then it is unlikely they were caused by the homeopathic. It is natural for modest symptoms to be exhibited during the healing and cleansing of the body. When symptoms grow in intensity or for prolonged length of time seek professional help.

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) recognizes the Homeopathic Pharmacopoeia of the United States (HPUS) regulations, which stipulates how remedies should be manufactured, dispensed and utilized by homeopathic practitioners. The remedies in this catalog are registered with the FDA and follow HPUS guidelines.

Within this catalog are the most dramatic homeopathic remedies ever engineered. The theories of Dr. James P. Isaacs, and Prof. Wm. C. Nelson, the foremost authority on trace minerals, have been instrumental in developing some of the Dr. Recommends products. Trace elements have profound biological effects, and when used in conjunction with scientifically developed sarcodes, nosodes, and isodes, White Dove offers the most effective homeopathics in the world today.

The Dr. Recommends remedies combine high potencies with lower potencies in a polychord blend. This unique, scientific combining ensures the safety and effectiveness of the homeopathic remedies. All Dr. Recommends remedies are made using our patent pending manufacturing process which activates electrical, synergistic, polymorphic, and energetic potentials. This process increases the energy so effectively that electronic duplicators and imprinters cannot duplicate the formulas. Our remedies are designed to blend with each other and work together for health, safety and ease of use. Any contraindication to the mixing of the remedies will be noted.

DUPLICATED REMEDIES

As we have discussed, there are several possible modes of information transfer. Duplicators work on a supposed magnetic transfer. In mode number one, which involves chemical action, magnetics would not work for information transfer. In modes number two and three, the mechanical force of succussion could change electron or molecular quantum states. Magnetics cannot effect this change. If magnetics could indeed do so, then homeopathy would be useless. The magnetic interference from a TV set or a telephone would alter or compromise the information. Transport of a homeopathic through the magnetic field of the earth would change the information and nullify homeopathic effectiveness. As mentioned, duplicated remedies show no change in freezing patterns or in Kirlian photography. Duplicated remedies are probably a placebo response at best. To test this supposition, a double blind experiment was conducted.

Procedure: 35 patients were chosen from a naturopathic doctor's practice. All patients were using homeopathics on a regular basis and knew what results to expect. Some patients used a Candida nosode to control bloating or other body symptoms; others used Belladonna or Lachesis for symptoms. All were familiar with their remedy's effect. Each patient was given either a regular homeopathic or a duplicated remedy. Each patient was also given either a placebo sugar pill, or a pill with 5mg. Narcan (Naloxone). Naloxone is used to block endorphin response and has been found to block the placebo effect in placebo responsive patients. Patient profiles were chosen to exclude those symptoms of pain as Naloxone can increase pain perception. The test was double blind with neither patient or practitioner knowing which formula was given. Patients were given questionnaires to evaluate the efficacy of the remedy. Results of the effectiveness are shown in the accompanying diagram.

Results: Tests indicated that the duplicated remedy performed significantly lower than the real remedy. The placebo blocking Narcan pill (a narcotic antagonist- a narcotic reversal agent) significantly lowered efficacy. Perhaps the information transfer of mode number four (multi-dimensional transfer) could account for the transfer of duplicators; the Narcan with its endorphin blocking action might also block other dimensional information transfer. Even so, the study shows a markedly decreased efficacy with the duplicated remedy. Radionic remedies have no pharmacology, quantum state or polymorphic state; thus, they are not homeopathics yet homeopathy is continually blamed for radionic remedies that fail.

Here again, quality is not of paramount importance to all homeopathic practitioners. Some prefer the greater monetary reward duplicators or imprinters provide. This lack of focus on quality and effectiveness compromises the homeopathic industry. Only through quality and dedication to developing and delivering the finest homeopathics can we truly succeed.

Duplication Study (% Effectiveness)

	Placebo	Duplicated (Imprinted)	Real Homeopathic
Placebo	55%	63%	97%
Narcan	10%	11%	96%

Imprinted or duplicated homeopathics are not as effective or reliable as real homeopathics.

THE HORMETIC PHILOSOPHY

Within the last hundred years we have drastically increased our toxic exposure through the use and abuse of synthetic substances. Present-day scientists have found through the study of hormesis that tickle doses, small trace doses of a toxin, can have stimulatory effects on the body. Hormesis stimulates a cell's defense system. In hormesis, the homeostatic balance is shifted and the body takes measures to protect itself.

The Dr. Recommends Hormetic Remedies cover a wide variety of toxic conditions including asbestos, cosmetic and beauty shop toxins, environmental toxins, industrial toxins, mercury amalgams and more.

The Dr. Recommends formulas are safe, yet powerful in their ability to stimulate an individual to detoxify without inducing a healing crisis. The high-end potencies used in the Dr. Recommends remedies are counterbalanced by the lower-dose remedies mixed in the polychords. Thus these highly engineered hormetic remedies can be utilized for increased safety and effectiveness, producing a more stable and safe remedy for doctors to use with their patients.

The hormetic remedies were developed for safety and efficacy within the high standards and patent pending processes utilized only by our lab.

THE LIQUITROPHIC PHILOSOPHY

In the development of a nutritional science we find that the body does indeed need vitamins, enzymes, coenzymes and a multitude of other factors to survive, including protein, carbohydrates, fats, water, air, and exercise. In the field of homeopathy we often deal with subtle energies, but homeopathy need not always be so dilute. Many homeopathics can be utilized at low potency/high concentration; i.e. mother tinctures of 1x, 2x, 3x or 4x, to supply measurable quantities of organic material, such as vitamins, to the body.

The Dr. Recommends Liquitrophic Remedies supply the vitamins, minerals, enzymes, alkaloids and hormones needed by the body to regulate biological activities. The liquitrophic remedies are not in pill form, but in liquid to maximize the surface area and to trigger the digestive system for absorption at the point in which it works best, the mouth. Inside the nasal pharynx area are many nerve structures running to the brain that help trigger the digestive system for maximum absorption and utilization of the remedy.

Thus, the liquid formation of these remedies maximizes their effectiveness. This maximization of effectiveness means we can use less, in much safer dosages. The Dr. Recommends Liquitrophic Remedies are also developed to be safe for children and elderly patients.

THE ANODYNE PHILOSOPHY

Anodyne is the medical term for a remedy utilized to treat pain. The neurology of pain involves a network of sensory neurons delivering neurological signals through the nervous system to the brain, at which point those incoming signals are perceived as pain.

The Dr. Recommends Anodyne Remedies are specially formulated to help in a wide variety of pain conditions. They are not designed to merely cover the pain, or act as pain killers. These remedies are designed to heal the cause of the pain, and to stimulate the organism to reduce the experience of pain through natural means. The anodyne formulas give us a broad-based collection of easy-to-use remedies to help with the many types of painful conditions that the body experiences.

It is important to note that pain is not an enemy; pain is a messenger indicating a problem that needs to be dealt with. Homeopathy helps to heal the underlying causes of pain in response to the message, and in healing the problem, also alleviates the associated pain.

If pain persists, it is an indication that there may be a serious underlying condition and the patient should be referred to a qualified professional who can treat the patient more effectively.

THE COMBINATION PHILOSOPHY

Combination homeopathy is the most popular type of homeopathy used in the world today. Whereas singular homeopathics usually have profoundly small realms of utilization, combination homeopathics, whose ingredients are chosen based on a symptomatic picture, can be engineered for more broad-based ranges of effectiveness. Thus, combination homeopathy is easy to learn, as a minimal amount of training is needed for the doctor to perceive the symptomatic picture that is presented, and it offers the doctor a wider range of utility.

In nature everything exists in a combination form. Thus, Apis mellifica, or honey bee, is a very complex combination that nature has brought together to yield one energetic substance. This is the law of "synergy" - the whole is greater than the sum of the parts. "Combining" is the secret of life.

This type of "synergy" is culminated in the Dr. Recommends Combination Remedies. The combination remedies have been developed with special attention given to the blending of the ingredients, exploiting the synergistic effect into a new singular formula. The Dr. Recommends Combination Remedies are safe and effective formulas that will minimize healing crises and help to reduce the risk to the patient. The Combination Remedies also utilize the best of trace element work in achieving their glandular activity.

THE RESTORATIVE PHILOSOPHY

Sarcodes remedies have been utilized for many years in homeopathy to help rebuild tissue when organ structures are in disease states. Damage to organs caused by disease states can result in malfunctioning on an organic level. The Dr. Recommends Restorative Remedies help the tissue areas to rebuild correctly. Energetic studies have shown that a sarcodes can rectify an energetic imbalance where there is no organic disturbance.

Sarcodal homeopathy offers the safest and most gentle form of homeopathy. Results are often the slowest to be seen due to the correct rebuilding at the cellular level. The restorative remedies will work more quickly and successfully in younger patients than in older patients. In the older patient these remedies can at times be utilized to stimulate cleansing and to stabilize and reduce the risk of healing crisis.

The Dr. Recommends Restorative Remedies are engineered in polychords of differing potencies. Maximum efficiency is achieved with a combination of 4x, 6x, 12x, 30x, 60x, 100x, 500x and 1000x. This allows the body to respond to the frequency of dilution which works best to rebuild tissues. The Restorative Remedies are safe and effective and quality controlled to ensure efficacy.

THE ORIENTAL HERB PHILOSOPHY

The Chinese have studied the medicinal effects of herbs for thousands of years. Specific directions were developed on how to pick the herbs, preserve the herbs, and how to prepare the herbal remedies. Often these remedies were made in dilute quantities, sometimes as low as one part per million, which is equivalent to a 1000x. The Chinese understood how certain herbs could be made more dilute and still achieve pharmacological effectiveness.

Although they did not have a system of succussion, nor did they have a system of homeopathic dilution, the Chinese pharmacology was much akin to homeopathic processes. Many herbs were diluted to find safer levels of activity. This titration allowed for strong herbs to be used more safely.

Nature provides many energetic factors beyond mere chemistry. Subtle energetic effects, mineral balance, electrical regulation abilities, and more are stable in dilution. Dilution also offers safety in compliance with the minimal dose concept of medicine. Many Chinese herbs have excellent effects in low-potency homeopathic form.

The Dr. Recommends Oriental Herbal Remedies utilize the compatibility of herbology and homeopathy. This is to insure safety first, while guaranteeing effectiveness. Many compounds can be increased in energetic potency as we make them more and more dilute, while preserving their activity.

THE MIASM PHILOSOPHY

“Useful to the physician in assisting him to cure are the particulars of the most probable exciting cause of the acute disease, as also the most significant points in the whole history of the chronic disease, to enable him to discover its fundamental cause, which is generally due to a chronic miasm.”

Samuel Hahnemann
Organon of Medicine

A miasm is a predisposition to a disease pattern passed from one generation to the next. These inherited tendencies can produce a variety of apparently unrelated conditions. For example, if your great-great grandfather suffered from syphilis, it is possible that you could be experiencing any number of skin disorders because of his disease several generations ago. Hahnemann found that miasms such as sycosis, syphilis and psora, could be transmitted through genetic inheritance. We now know that there are other types of miasm links too. Miasms exist on very high vibrational levels, therefore miasmatic formulas generally consist of very high potencies.

The Dr. Recommends Miasm Remedies have been engineered to help stimulate the patient's body to deal with these inherited disturbances and discharge them at the most subtle vibrational level. These often act in other dimensions, and need to be dispelled through energetic vibrational medicine.

A word of caution to the young initiate in homeopathy; using miasmatic remedies takes some degree of skill and experience. Higher potencies operate at deeper levels, and care must be exercised not to complicate the situation by administering the inappropriate remedy or dosage.

THE PSYCHOLOGICAL PHILOSOPHY

The Dr. Recommends Psychological Homeopathic formulas use a combination of homeopathic ingredients to help stabilize psychological conditions found in our patient population. These psychological conditions run the range of depression, anxiety, mania, etc. It must be pointed out that these patients' conditions are often complicated by other allopathic treatment that can diminish the homeopathic results.

The Dr. Recommends Psychological Remedies are not complete therapy in and of themselves. Any type of psychological treatment should have a referral to a psychologist, counselor, or other professional trained in these areas. These remedies are an adjunctive therapy and should never be used as a primary or singular method of treatment.

THE ALLERSODE PHILOSOPHY

Many people suffer from hyper-immune cascade, an overreaction of the body that allows antibodies to accumulate, which results in hypersensitivity to specific substances. In a word, these people have allergies.

It has been proven that exposing a person with allergies to small quantities of the potential allergy-causing substance can desensitize the allergic reaction of the body. Compounds that work against the allergic reaction of the body are called antigens and can be administered orally. Through research, German scientists have found that by administering hyaluronidase, glucuronidase, 1-3 cyclohexanedione, and histamine at very low dosages, they could dramatically increase the desensitization potential of different antigens.

Dr. Recommends Allersode Remedies utilize these four substances in a homeopathic base and in combination with various antigens to produce allersodes for a wide variety of allergic sensitivities. In addition to the Dr. Recommends combination allersodes listed in this catalog, a wide range of singular allersodes are also available to address specific allergies.

Our strict quality control processes ensure that the Dr. Recommends Allersodes are safe and effective, even for children. For infants under one year of age, the compounds can be massaged into the navel using the child's own hand.

Progressive desensitization of allergens can be achieved by using the Courses 1 through 4 as indicated above. Two bottles per month is usual usage. Most minor allergies will be controlled after 1 or 2 courses. Stubborn or violent allergies may need Course 3. Abstinence from allergens improves treatment efficacy.

Begin with 10 drops, 3 times a day, of "Course 1" for one month. After a month of Course 1, begin "Course 2" for one month (10 drops, 3 times a day). After completing Course 2, proceed to "Course 3" for one month (10 drops, 3 times a day).

These monthly programs bring the allergen into the body slowly with progressively higher concentrations. This procedure helps to insure safe and effective desensitization to the allergen. If any of the Courses produce an allergic response, repeat the last Course that was tolerated. Then proceed to the next progressive Course.

A complete line of singulars which include allersodes, nosodes, sarcodes, isodes and phenols, at various potencies, are available. Please request a singular catalog for more information.

VITAMINS, MINERALS, SUPPLEMENTS, OLIGOS & MISCELLANEOUS PRODUCTS

The sciences of nutritional medicine and orthomolecular biology have shown that compounds can be used to help patients attain balance in their systems. While pursuing this balance, nutritional deficiency and excess must be dealt with.

The Dr. Recommends vitamin and mineral products can be utilized in a therapeutic practice to supplement patients' diets; they also provide orthomolecular support through the stabilization of enzyme pathways, hormonal utilization, and vitamin integrity. These formulas are designed to work with the body naturally by assisting the nutritional intake of the patient and supplementing the needed vitamins and enzymes.

Oligo is the French word for small. Trace elements, vitamins and nucleotides can have profound effects on biology. In very small amounts, these elements are chelated to sugar molecules by covalent bonds. When these sugars are drawn into the cellular metabolism, the mineral, vitamin or nucleotide is pulled in. The Dr. Recommends oligos are made with all of the naturally occurring sugars such as glucose, sucrose, fructose, galactose, pentose, maltose and other saccharides in a glycerol base so they will be brought into the cell via all energy pathways. Oligos thus can be utilized to correct nutritional deficiencies, metabolic pathways, and energetic irregularities.
